It is so diverse and so full of charm, so fine and yet so much of utility Measured by our strict standard, this is the best June gathering of muslin under garments. You know what that must mean so, you will be prepared to see a really-fine gathering. And you shall.

yesterday afternoon, by the convention of delegates and laymen. The motion was offered by Secretary Harriman, and amended by Judge A. Heason Robertson of New Haven, well known as the Democratic candidate for Governor at the last election.

Secretary Harriman presented the following resolution: "Resolved, That a committee consisting of seven clergynen and six laymen be appointed by the president to consider and report to the next convention upon the advisability of dividing the diocese, on what lines, and with what provision for future support." To which Judge Robertson offered the following amendment: "Or any other provision to meet the difficulties suggested by the bishop or those seeking a division of the diocese." Here are some examples—but no list, however extensive, can give adequate idea of what waits for your seeing.

Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster in discussing the proposed division, said during his annual address:

"The reason for considering a division of the discuss. Those reasons may briefly be summed up thus: not for the bishop's sake, but for his work's sake, that it may be better done; for the church's sake, that it be set forward and may more fully accomplish its mission in this commonwealth: and also, let me add, for the sake of genuine diocesan unity. The true unit of church life, it should be remembered, is the diocese. That diocesan unity, under present conditions, is not in adequate measure practically resized. Myself a native of Connecticut, I can well understand the feeling of pride in the old diocese as it has been and is. On the other hand, diocesan efficiency would seem to be a more weighty consideration than any diocesan presented.

"In recent years much has been said regarding "the historic episcopate locally adapted." Whether somewhat more of local adaptation thereof be not a necessity here would seem to be a reasonable question. Let me express the hope that you will authorize are appointment of a representative committee seriously to consider the whole subject and report to the next convention. Let me also say that while I should desire sometimes to meet with that committee, I think it better that I should not be a member or officer thereof."

THREATS MADE OF LYNCHING FEUD SHOOTERS

(Special from United Press.)

Jackson, Ky., June 2.—While Ed Callahan is fighting hard against seemingly unsurmountable odds for his life his friends are gathering at his home and there are threats freely made that they will raid the jail here and try to lynch Govan Smith. "Big Ed" Smith and Levi Johnson, arrested by Sheriff Breck Crawford for shooting Callahan. The former sheriff and feud leader is paralyzed from his waist down and, if he recovers, will never be able to walk or ride again. The doctors declare his chance of recovery is but one in a thousand but if he is able to be moved he will be rushed to the Lexington Hospital for treatment.

The feeling throughout Breathitt County is intense but so far the militia has not been ordered out. Sheriff Crawford has sworn in a big posse of deputies and armed them with repeating rifies. They have established a cordon about the jail. Asbury Spicker and John Smith, the latter the man who eloped with Callahan's former wife, are declared to be hidden in the bushes on Squabble Creek and the sheriff and a posse are searching for them. Crawford declared to-day that the shooting of Callahan was inspired by the former Mrs. Callahan and he alleges that he has complete evidence against the men under arrest and those he is seeking showing the manner in which the shooting was planned. The arrest of the trio was due to the bioodhounds. They were hurried here and jailed. Several hours later Govan Smith was surprised on Long's Creek and also arrested. Circuit Judge Adams and Sheriff Crawford are in conference to-day regarding the advisability of asking Governor Willson.

FIGHT STARTED KNOCK OUT TAMMANY

(Special from United Press.)

New York, June 9.—The real fight to west control of New York City from Tammany Hall will be launched at a mass meeting to be held next Thursday night when the committee of 100, which is to select the candidates for the Fusion ticket, will be named. At that meeting the provisional committee named some time ago will make its report and suggest the names to fill the list.

According to those who are prominent in the movement the real support will come from the outlying boroughs, especially Brooklyn, Queens and the Bronx. The Queens is declared to be particularly sore on Tammany Hall because great sums of money have been expended by politicians there for improvements that were not what the citizens wanted.

In Brooklyn the sentiment is also claimed to be very strong although it is admitted that State Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff who controls file Republican machine in that borough is opposed to any Fusion that will not give the Republicans the mayorality candidate. All of the members of the committee that has been formulating the Fusion plans insisted to-day that it is not a question of candidates but of principles and that they have not discussed candidates at all and will not until they manage to frame their platform. There is little interest taken at Tammany Hall in these proceedings. The Tiger is supremely confident that this is a Democratic year and Leader Murphy insists it is too early to talk politics. He, has caused it to be known to the rank and file, however, that the organization is such that there can be no vital Issue raised and is sure to elect its candidates as the tickets will be headed by a justice of the supreme court or a big businessman for Mayor.
